JUNIOR MINE GEOLOGIST

Location: Spinifex Ridge Iron Ore – Western Australia

Moly Mines is an ASX and TSX listed Resources Company focusing on the development of base metals, and iron ore projects, including the world class Spinifex Ridge Molybdenum Project in the Pilbara region of WA.

Moly Mines has commenced early works on the Spinifex Ridge open cut Iron Ore operation and is looking for a Junior Mine Geologist to join the operations team on site.

Reporting to the Senior Mine Geologist, this position will be responsible for technical advice, planning and methodology of the mine. Duties will include:

- Supervision of sampling activities
- Geological mapping of the ore body
- Calculating ore reserves
- Interpretation of geological data

This position will suit a graduate, with minimal experience. Conditions include a lifestyle friendly fly in, fly out roster from Perth. The opportunity is here to be involved in a greenfields operation and be part of developing the site through to production.

It is essential the incumbent has excellent communication and motivational skills, and the flexibility to adapt to the changing environment.
